Part of the Always on Sunday Monthly Greek Film Series

Astoria, NY – June 27, 2022 – The Hellenic Film Society USA (HFS) presents the award-winning film, Defunct, on Sunday, July 10 at the Museum of the Moving Image (MoMI) in Astoria, Queens. The presentation is part of HFS's Always on Sunday series of monthly Greek film screenings at MoMI.

The winner of the Audience Award for Best Picture at the 2019 Thessaloniki International Film Festival, Defunct tells the story of Aris, a failed young businessman who leaves behind his downtown yuppie lifestyle and moves into his late grandfather's home in an Athens suburb. Before long, he discovers a family secret that will forever change the way he looks at life. Directed by Zacharias Mavroeidis, Defunct (the title in Greek is Apostratos) is in Greek with English subtitles.

"This is an audience-friendly film that uses a light touch to tell the story of a young man who reaches an understanding of family dynamics that will usher him into a new level of maturity," says Jimmy DeMetro, president of the Hellenic Film Society USA. "Mihalis Sarantis, who gives a flawless performance as the young man, justifies his status as a young Greek actor to watch."

A trailer for the film and an interview with the director can be found on the Hellenic Film Society's YouTube channel. The following week, on Sunday, July 17, the Hellenic Film Society, in partnership with the New York City Parks Department, will present a free screening of the musical Mamma Mia! at Athens Square Park in Astoria at 30th Avenue/30th Street.
